The deceased had twice represented his county in the General Assembly of North Carolina, and was formerly State Senator and County Commissioner. He was among the most prominent men in his section. He leaves a widow, five daughters and two sons, among whom are Mrs. Elsie Cross and Hardy Williams, of Norfolk, and B. G. Williams, of Abbeville, N. C. Mrs. Cross was a family connection of Mrs. I. O. Hill, of Suffolk.

COMMISSIONER FOR THREE HOURS.

Mr. J. Walter Hosier, who was for three hours Commissioner of Valuation for Nansemond county, his appointment having been reconsidered and returned from Richmond. Mr. Hosier feels that he was treated badly, but he accepts the situation philosophically. Some of Mr. Hosier's friends are much more outspoken than he. The whole affair will have a tendency to heal the party breach made by late factional troubles.

JAMES YOUNG.

Mr. James Young, who is shortly to appear here at the head of his own company in an elaborate production of a new play, entitled "Lord Byron," astounded the critics of the North by his interpretation of Shylock when he was only 17 years old. By the force of his own genius he has risen step by step into the front rank of the actors of today. He has been associated with the late Augustin Daly, who had the most profound faith in his ability, and often expressed the belief that his protegee would one day be the leading actor of America, and he has been recognized, North and South, as one of the leading actors in Shakespearean roles. His physique enables him to represent Byron to the life, and his company has been most carefully selected. Mr. Young's appearance here will be one of the events of the season. The general sale begins Monday morning.

HAMPTON.

THE BENJAMIN ASSAULT CASE ADJOURNED TO MONDAY. (Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Hampton Va., March 10.—The case of Frank Benjamin, the negro who assaulted Miss Caine, the Norfolk trained nurse at the residence of Mr. Schmelz Tuesday evening, occupied the Elizabeth City County Court again to-day.

The trial is all in and is considered very strong against Benjamin. It is difficult to find a man who does not believe that the jury will find him guilty and inflict the death penalty.

The only hope for Benjamin disappeared this afternoon when Dr. Still, the insanity expert, went upon the witness stand and swore that the negro was not crazy.

The trial will be resumed at 10 o'clock Monday morning, when the instructions to the jury will be argued. The argument on the law and the evidence will be begun Monday afternoon, and will possibly be concluded in time for the jury to render a verdict in the evening. It is not believed there will be any delay in reaching a conclusion.

ALL DAY FIGHT AROUND OLD GEORGE. (Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Lexington, Va., March 10.—The damage to Washington and Lee University resulting from the "all day fight around Old George," waged between the freshmen and sophomores, has been repaired. After the smoke of battle had cleared away the inventory of damage was as follows: About thirty panes of glass broken from windows and several sashes demolished; benches torn up; blackboards in need of repairs; brooms confiscated for clubs; chairs rendered useless by rough handling and sixty-three holes cut in the tin roof by the bushes or more of stones found on top of the building, thrown by freshmen at sophomores. The cost of repairing same was about $25, which, it is said, the two classes offered to pay.

This inventory does not include the casualties of the fight, such injuries as were received by the sophomores from rocks and other missiles thrown by the rash young freshmen. The worst injured sophomore was one whose head was the target for two stones, and whose hand suffered the loss of a portion of its natural covering. Others came in for their share of bruises. The hand-to-hand conflict in one of the class-rooms was especially exciting, and not without its marks.
